Encountering Life Issues with Soul Wisdom

IT IS TIME

Stepping beyond political boundaries, it is time to call together all those who choose to vibrate as a higher expression. It is time to set aside labels and names, methods to differentiate and discriminate and participate in one of this planet's greatest opportunities we may ever get to witness. If you find yourself embodied as a human at this time in history, it is not a coincidence. If you find yourself reading these words, it is not a coincidence.

It isn't about saving the planet, it isn't about saving this civilization~it is about creating a huge opportunity for many beings to step up to a higher calling and expedite the journey Home. This last week a man who represents whites as much as he represents blacks, who embodies the female and male energy both, who shares a voice for all beings, and knows how to use that voice, has been placed in a position of great leadership. Many feel that he was born for this task, and whether you personally believe that or not is not up for discussion. Our collective consciousness has called forth this voice and his leadership capabilities, so the task now becomes, what can we do? One man cannot save anyone, it is going to require all of us. How is your voice required or necessary? How can you assist? What can you do or rather, be?

First of all, this is a time for presence above all else. No looking back to what ifs, couldas, shouldas, or name calling generated from past animosity. No looking back. We are here because, in the greater scheme of things, this is exactly where we need to be for the greatest good of all. So trust that what is transpiring is not just for you or for someone else, but for us all, as a world, as a civilization, as a planet. Set aside judgment and speculation for trust.

Next, know that each of us has a place in this time of human experience. The Mayan people recorded civilizations in periods of 5125 years and the year 2012 roughly marks the end of one of those periods: the rule of the opportunistic, agrarian-built societies of personal and individual advancement at the expense of others. They prophesied many years ago that either our civilization would perish by our own hand or we would usher in a world based on spiritual principles (unity vs. separation) and continue in another form. Now is that time, and not one individual is going to save us, this transformation is going to be done with our collective mind.

If you listened to Obama's acceptance speech you heard a lot of words like us and we as opposed to I and me. This country was founded on the principles of a country for the people, by the people, and of the people. That means you. It doesn't mean we all have to be involved in politics, it means we all are charged with exposing and employing our particular gifts. It means we as a people must now hold an image larger than any one individual. We must activate the message inside us all of what we are doing here. Together, we are going to raise the vibration of the collective mind.

Where do we begin? Many of you will already know, because you have felt the tap the same as I did, "Come on, wake up, it's time to put thoughts and words and ideas into action." For those who are ready but not sure where to go or what this means for you, included are a list of attributes that can be your guiding light. These characteristics will guide each of you to live more fully in your own highest self and also will guide you to what you personally have to offer. This is not a time to sit back and let someone else carry the burden or steer the ship, this is a time when either we all participate, or there may not be a we as we know it.

As I mentioned, trust is paramount. Give up what you do not want and keep what you do, trust that in each circumstance your inner guidance, or heart message will lead you. Honesty is vital. There should be nothing you say that contradicts what you think or do, no thought opposes any other thought. Tolerance teaches not to judge and will make way for a new way of thinking and being that allows instead of excludes.

Gentleness perpetuates lack of harm and creates a place of openness. Defenselessness is required and includes more aspects of being open, no longer a standing preparedness for attack of any kind. We as a nation are only the compilation of the greater mind of each of us. To lay aside our weapons, in thoughts, actions and deeds is what is now required. Defenselessness does not allow for attack of any kind, it is arms open wide. Generosity is a concept that is usually reserved for those who have, but it is time for us all to employ it. We all have something to give, and to give with our hearts and no strings attached.

Patience is now demanded. The time is as right as the answer, sure of the ultimate divine presence, no need to worry or be concerned because in time all outcomes serve the greatest good. Faithfulness is the ability to turn over all problems or concerns to a divine being, trusting that all is unfolding perfectly for each of us to find our way back Home.

Last are open-mindedness and joy, each vitally important in the next step in the consciousness of our minds. Open-minded thinking is letting go of all things that prevent forgiveness, and joy is a required energy for recreating our Home, it is a song of thanks and a celebration of re-finding love.

You are each tasked with the challenge of living up to your highest selves, not just to improve the quality of your own life, but to collectively raise the vibration of all of us. We have a leader who is creating a way for this to happen, who carries the energy of unity and concern, who embodies all these qualities to the best of his ability and will set an example and a standard of integrity that will raise the bar. Waste no time in lamenting, in resisting or in speculation, and self-discipline will be required to stay the course. Now is the time to truly ask not what your country can do for you, but what you can do, not only for your country, but for All Living Beings! Be what you came here to be, "be the change you wish to see in this world," as Gandhi says.

-Julie Hutslar

"Attack will always yield to love if it is brought to love, not hidden from it."

"The journey we undertake together is the exchange of dark for light, of ignorance for understanding."

"Yet those who have failed to learn need teaching, not attack. To attack those who have need of teaching is to fail to learn from them."

TODAY'S TOOL

ADDING TO THE LIGHT

Each morning, begin your day with a conscious decision to add light into this world. That means either see yourself as the light that you truly are, acknowledge that someone else is a divine light or set off your Love Bomb (see newsletter #10, July 2008). You could also choose to hold one of our leaders in this space of radiant light. Imagine all those beings of light that you know and love and surround this person with their intense brilliance. You may want to do this for someone who is ill or in a slump. Perhaps there is someone who is alienated from you or your family, choose to hold them in a healing and loving light.

It only takes a brief moment, but requires your genuine intent to generate light. Your mind and heart together with non-physical beings call forth the light that is within us all to manifest in a metaphysical realm and create a powerful energy. If you find yourself with not enough energy to even muster up a cup of coffee, then speak these words to yourself:

LIVE IN YOUR TRUTH-ALIVE,
RADIANT, CONTENTED, BLISSFUL,
A SONG UNTO YOURSELF.
YOUR WHOLE LIFE BECOMES A PRAYER WITHOUT WORDS,
A PRAYERFULNESS, A GRACE,
A BEAUTY WHICH DOES NOT BELONG TO YOUR MUNDANE
WORLD, A RAY OF LIGHT COMING FROM BEYOND INTO THE DARKNESS OF OUR WORLD.

Anything you do that does not utilize your unique and developed gifts is not serving the world.

Stop spinning your wheels creating a rut, sometimes you just need to re-locate resources.

Allow the misperceptions and fears that block your divine destiny to come into the light to be resolved.

Accept and welcome what IS right now!

1. Encountering Life Issues with Soul Wisdom newsletter is available to anyone who asks. Feel free to forward it via email, print it out or for those who do not have email, let me know and I can mail you a copy.
2. Julie's 2009 Workshop Schedule is now available. Several new workshops have been added. Managing Negative Energy is a one day workshop for those who struggle with consistently annoying people who are always negative, or for those who are often compromised by negative energy themselves. Also added this year is a level II Watercolor Techniques class. In addition, there is the Transforming Relationships Workshop and Turning up Your Inner Light. The standby, Unkinking the Creative Hose is offered several times as well. Check the web site for details. www.jrhutslar.com.
3. For those in the Greater Seattle area, Julie's date at East West Bookshop has been rescheduled for January 24th from 7-8:30pm. Don't miss her talk on The Mask, the Mirror and the Illusion.
